What is Support Coordination?

How it works, and how it helps you.

Easy Read document

Knowing how to use your NDIS plan can feel hard.

There are lots of choices to make.
It's okay to feel unsure.

Support Coordination can help.

Our Support Coordinators are here to make your NDIS journey:

- Easy
- Stress free
- and empowering.

Here we explain what Support Coordination is, how it works, and how it can help you.

What is Support Coordination?

Support Coordination is a support funded by the NDIS.

It helps you understand your plan and use it well.

A Support Coordinator can help you:

- Know how your NDIS plan works
- Find the right support providers
- Improve your confidence
- Work on your goals

They answer your questions and support you on the way.

How does Support Coordination work?

Support Coordination helps turn your plan into action.

Here's how it works:

1. They help you know your plan.

Your Support Coordinator will go through your plan with you.

They'll help you understand:

- What funding you have
- What supports you can use
- How to use your funding properly

2. They help you find the right services

There are lots of services out there, and it can be hard to choose.

Your Support Coordinator will:

- Look for trusted providers
- Help you compare
- Make referrals
- Help manage your budget

You don't have to do it all yourself. A support Coordinator will help you find the right provider.

3.They help you learn new skills

Support Coordination helps you now, but it also helps you learn skills for later.

They support you to:

- Be independent
- Make your own choices
- Learn how to manage your supports
- Learn new ways to fix problems

The goal is for you to feel more confident and in control.

4. They give ongoing support

Things don't always go to plan, and that's okay.

Your Support Coordinator can help if:

- A service isn't working for you
- You want to change providers
- You're not sure what to do next

The Support Coordinator is part of your team. They help you move forward.

How can Support Coordination help you?

Support Coordination can be very helpful with your NDIS journey.

How it can help:

1. Less stress
2. Better use of funding
3. More choice
4. Stronger support team
5. Work on your goals

Less stress

You don't have to do it all alone.
Your Support Coordinator will help
you.

This means:

- Less stress
- Less confusion
- More confidence.

Better use of your funding

It can be hard to understand funding. Sometimes, people don't use all their funding.

A Support Coordinator helps you:

- Use your funding well
- Find supports that work well for your budget
- Get the support you want

More choice

The NDIS is all about choice.

You'll be supported to:

- Choose what works for you
- Make your own decisions
- Stay in control of your supports

Stronger support team

You'll make a team around you.

This team might have:

- Therapists
- Support workers
- Community programs
- Plan Managers

Having the right people makes a big difference.

Work on your goals

Your goals are the most important part of your plan.

Support Coordination helps you:

- Stay focused
- Track your progress
- Fix or change supports if needed
